WHAT?

Psychology 101 is intended to introduce you to psychology, the scientific study of behaviour. The course begins with an overview of the field of psychology and its research methods, and then covers some of the most fundamental topics in biological and cognitive psychology, including the brain, learning, memory, and language.

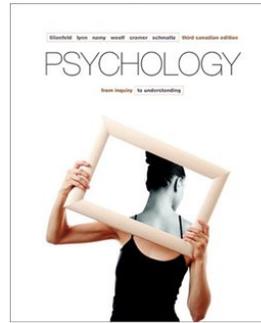

LEARNING GOALS

By the end of this course, you should be able to:

1. Define psychology, and identify its major subfields.
2. Describe and critique the basic research methods employed by psychologists.
3. Explain the concepts of 'case study,' 'correlation,' and 'experiment;' identify their strengths and weaknesses.
4. Use basic descriptive statistics.
5. Identify the major structures of the human brain and describe their functions.
6. Apply psychological concepts to real-life experiences.
7. Critically read and interpret psychology research articles.

COURSE MATERIALS

REQUIRED: TEXTBOOK

Lilienfeld, S.O., Lynn, S.J., Namy, L.L., & Woolf, N.J. (2016). Psychology: From Inquiry to Understanding. Third Canadian Version.

You can purchase the textbook at the UBC library, or at other outlets. This textbook is a new (3rd) edition: it is highly recommended that you purchase the new version, as it is this version that lecture and exams will be based upon.

It is also possible to purchase just the textbook ebook for a reduced price ($90 Cdn). This can be done through MyPsychLab.

On occasion, the textbook may be supplemented by other readings or videos to facilitate your understanding. Please keep up to date on the course website regarding any such materials.

Note that this textbook will also be used in your term 2 class (Psyc 102), so make sure to keep it after you are done with this course!

REQUIRED: i>CLICKER

This tool will be used for questions and polls during lectures. The i>Clicker can be purchased at the UBC bookstore—used or new.

You must register your i>Clicker on Connect in order to get course credit for your use of the i>Clicker.

REQUIRED: MYPYCHLAB

This online learning component will come bundled with your textbook if you buy it at the UBC bookstore. It allows you to view the textbook eBook, access video and simulation materials, and more. You will also complete review quizzes on MyPsychLab for course credit.

If you purchased a used version of the textbook, you will need to purchase access to MyPsychLab separately.

MyPsychLab can be accessed/purchased through the Connect website.

REQUIRED: COURSE WEBSITE

<http://www.connect.ubc.ca>

You are responsible for checking the course website regularly throughout the term. You use your CWL to log in. This is where you can download the lecture slides and posted readings and see important announcements. Lecture slides will be posted as PDFs. Grades will also be posted to the website in a timely manner.

EVALUATION

EXAMS: 65%

There will be three midterm exams (written during class time) and one final exam (to be written during the exam period at a time designated by the Registrar's Office—you must be available at any time during the December exam period).

Midterm Exams (35%)

- First Midterm: Sept. 28 (up to 17.5%)
- Second Midterm: Oct. 26 (up to 17.5%)
- Third Midterm: Nov. 16 (up to 17.5%)

Only the best two of the three midterm exams will count towards your final grade.

Final Exam (30%): Dec. 6-21

Notes on Exams:

- Midterms are not cumulative; the final exam is cumulative.
- There will be topics covered in class that are not in the text/readings and topics in the text/readings that are not covered in class. You will be responsible for both. That is, anything from class lecture and the text/readings can be tested on the exams.
- Exams will contain multiple-choice and short-answer questions.
- There will be no makeup exams.
- You are strongly encouraged to review your exam(s) with your TA. Most requests for grade adjustments can be settled directly with your TA. In cases of a dispute that cannot be satisfactorily resolved, the instructor will render a decision after reviewing the exam and if needed, talking to both parties.

ASSIGNMENTS: 18%

There will be two small solo assignments for this course. The goal of these assignments is to get you comfortable with thinking and reading about psychological research.

Assignment 1: Design an Experiment (8%).

In this assignment, you will be asked to come up with a research design related to a psychology question. You will be permitted one re-write after being provided with feedback from your peers and TA.

- First Attempt (2%): Due Oct. 5
- Final Version (6%): Due Oct. 24

Assignment 2: Article Summary (10%). In this assignment, you will be asked to read and summarize a psychology article, and think about applying the concepts to your life.

- First Attempt (2.5%): Due Nov. 9
- Final Version (7.5%): Due Nov. 28

Assignments must be submitted on Connect by class time (5:00pm) on the due date. For first attempts, you must also bring 2 copies of the completed assignment to your small group meetings for peer-review (see schedule for peer-review days).

All assignments must be typed, double-spaced, in 12pt font. Late assignments will be marked 10% off for each day late.

More information on assignments will be provided in lecture and small-group sessions.

ENGAGEMENT (15%)

You will be assessed on your engagement and participation through the following:

Lecture: Attendance and In-Class Participation via i>Clicker (5%)

Each lecture will have content that requires you to vote or answer questions using your i>Clicker.

If you answer >80% of i>Clicker questions throughout the term, you will receive 5%. >70% will receive 4%, >60% will receive 3%, >40% will receive 2%, >20% will receive 1%.

MyPsychLab Review Quizzes (6%)

Throughout the term you will complete quick review quizzes on MyPsychLab (accessed through Connect). These quizzes will cover material from assigned textbook readings and lecture. You should use your textbook and class notes to assist on the quizzes.

Review quizzes have approximately 4-6 questions each, and are due in sets of 2 quizzes. There are 14 review quizzes in total: only your best 12 review quizzes will count towards your final course mark.

Each review quiz you score 70% or higher will be awarded .5%, for a total quiz score of up to 6%.

All review quizzes must be completed by 11:59pm on Sunday evening. The due dates for review quizzes are:

- Sunday, Sept. 18 (2 quizzes)
- Sunday, Sept. 25 (2 quizzes)
- Sunday, Oct. 16 (2 quizzes)
- Sunday, Oct.23 (2 quizzes)
- Sunday, Nov. 6 (2 quizzes)
- Sunday, Nov. 13 (2 quizzes)
- Sunday, Nov. 28 (2 quizzes)

Small-Group Meetings: Attendance and In-Class Participation (4%)

You are expected to attend small-group meetings, participate in activities, and act respectfully towards your TA and fellow classmates. If you miss more than 2 small-group sessions, this will be reflected in your grade.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE (2%; up to 3% bonus)

Psychology is an active and exciting scientific discipline. Many of the studies you will learn about in this course were carried out in universities just like UBC!

As part of this course, you will be asked to complete a research experience component (REC) as a way of introducing you to cutting-edge research in psychology. This REC will be worth 2% of your grade and you are free to choose one of two options:

1. Participate in the Psychology Department Human Subjects Pool

Most students will choose to earn their REC by spending two hours participating in psychology studies (worth 1% for each hour) through the Department of Psychology's Human Subjects Pool (HSP) system.

You can create an HSP account, locate and sign up for studies by going to <https://ubc-psych.sona-systems.com>. Please register by the end of the first month of classes to earn your first ½ hour credit by completing a brief online survey to determine your eligibility for studies.

Once you are registered in the HSP system, you will be able to browse through and select which studies you wish to participate in, sign up for available time slots, and confirm your credits afterward.

At the end of the last day of class for the term, HSP closes and you will no longer be able to receive credits. Therefore, you should try and participate in studies and earn credits as early in the term as possible!

2. The Library Option

As an alternative to participation in HSP experiments, you may complete a library writing project. Such projects consist of reading and summarizing a research article from the peer-reviewed journal Psychological Science. You must summarize 1) the research question, 2) the methods, and 3) the results (in written form).

You will receive 1% for each article summary that meets the following requirements:

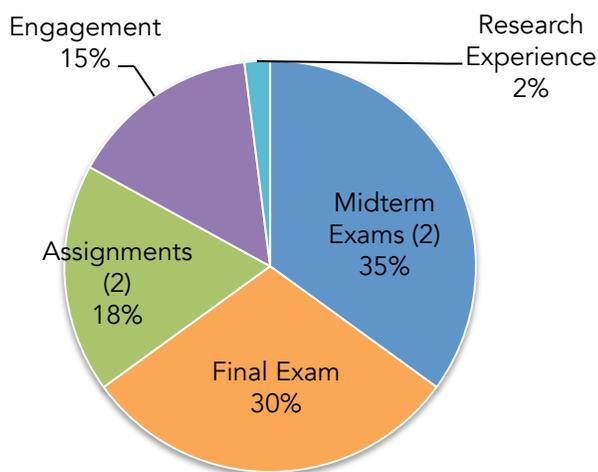

- The article must have been published in the journal titled Psychological Science.
- The article must have a publication date between the years 2000-2016.
- The article must be a research article. It cannot be a review article, a news item, a notice, or a letter to the editor.
- The summary should be approximately 500 words in length
- You must include your name, student number, course, section, instructor, and email address on each summary.
- You must log on to the HSP website (<https://ubc-psych.sona-systems.com>) and create an account before submitting your article summaries. Your course credit is assigned only if you use the online system.
- Summaries must be submitted by the last day of class
- You must submit your article and summary to turnitin.com. If you don't already have a turnitin account, you will need to create one. For the library assignment, the class ID is 9183443, class name is Psychology HSP (Winter 2016), and password is research. See turnitin.com for more information. Any evidence of plagiarism may result in lack of credit, and instructors will be notified. Further action may be taken by the department or university.

More information on HSP and the Library Option is available at: <http://psych.ubc.ca/internal/human-subject-pool/>

Bonus Credit (optional)

You may earn up to 3% extra credit that will be added to your final grade. These extra credit points can be earned by doing up to three additional hours of study participation in the HSP (or summarizing another three articles through the library option), in the same manner as described above.

GRADING

Your grade for each exam and assignment will be posted on Connect in a timely manner.

The Department of Psychology has adopted the following grad distributions for 100-level courses, and reserves the right to adjust final grades in this course if the distribution deviates substantially from the target.

Class Performance	Mean	SD
Strong class	67%	14%
Average class	65%	14%
Weak class	63%	14%

ATTENDANCE

In this course, material that is taught in class may be different from or supplement the course readings. It is, therefore, essential for you to attend class as well as read the text. If you do have to miss a class, you are responsible for getting notes from another student.

Attendance in lectures will be monitored via your use of the i>Clicker. Attendance in small-group meetings will be monitored by your TAs.

There will be no makeup midterm exams. If you miss the December final exam, you must apply through the registrar’s office for a makeup exam (‘academic concession’). It is likely they will require significant documentation to grant a makeup-exam (doctor's notes, etc.)

During your time in this course, if you encounter medical, emotional, or other personal problems that affect your attendance or academic performance, please notify us, as well as your Academic Advisor.

We participate in the Early Alert program, which helps us support students who are facing difficulties that are interfering with school. For answers to frequently asked questions regarding the Early Alert program, please visit:

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

UBC Vantage College's disciplinary procedures for suspected cases of academic misconduct will adhere to the University's procedures and parallel individual instructor's departmental procedures.

Definitions of cheating and plagiarism are offered at <http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/Vancouver/index.cfm?tree=3,54,111,959>.

As per University procedures, if an instructor suspects that a student has cheated or plagiarized, the instructor will investigate the incident and meet with students to discuss the matter (see <http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/Vancouver/index.cfm?tree=3,54,111,961>). If the instructor would like another person present during the initial meeting with the student, the instructor may invite the relevant Vantage College Program Chair, the Academic English Program Director, or the Academic Director.

Depending on the results of the investigation and the meeting with the student, the instructor may decide to do one of the following:

1. Require the student to re-do work at issue or to do supplementary work;
2. Assign a grade of zero or a failing grade for the work;
3. Assign a mark less harsh than failing for the work

Where a report of the investigation and outcome of the meeting with the student would normally be submitted to a department head, the instructor will submit a report to the Chair of the relevant Vantage College program. The Chair will forward all reports to the Academic Director of Vantage College.

If further investigation and disciplinary action are required and the suspected case of academic misconduct would normally be reported to the Dean's office, the Academic Director will meet with the student.

HELPFUL HINTS

- There are 26 classes and 8 chapters will be covered this term. This means that there will usually only be 2-3 lectures per text chapter—plan your reading and studying accordingly!

- Remember to use the linguistic features of psychological discourse that you explore in VANT140 for psychology in your coursework and group activities
- Productive classroom discussion and debate are encouraged.
- Lecture slides will be posted on Connect by 12am the night before each lecture. This is done as a courtesy. Please be aware, however, that it is likely changes will be made to the slides between that time and lecture the next day or items may be missing. Final versions of the slides will be posted following a lecture, and will be marked as 'Final Version.' Also note that lecture slides will not include everything discussed in lecture. If you miss a class, try to get notes from a classmate!
- Laptops and similar devices can be effective learning tools and are thus welcome in class. However, if you are using them for non-class related activities, it can be distracting for others. Please be considerate.
